

Treat Your Family Like your Best Clients

Maybe you haven't treated your family like your best client, but it's never too late to start. It doesn't matter if they are 2, 12, 22 or 42 years old. It is never too late. I didn't have a decent relationship with my mom until I was 31 years old. I sat at my mom's funeral with no regrets.

If no one at your dinner table taught you how to come home and treat your family well, do it anyway. I am not a perfect mom, but I sure try to give my children a mom who tries really hard to set a good example.

What would it look like for you to bring your best self home to your family?

Go home and ask your family if they think you treat them like your client. Then put a plan in place to keep doing a great job, or devise a new plan to do it better.

Ask your family tonight how they know you have had a bad day. Those are the behaviours we need to change in the first 10 minutes we come through the door.

Be the change.

"To love truly we must accept others as they are without any expectations."

purelovequotes.com